Access to expert exhibition stand designers

The majority of our stand builders and support staff have worked in the exhibition industry all of their working lives. We bring their extensive knowledge and expertise to the design of your exhibition stand. With an array of experts on hand, we can advise you on the latest features and technology to set your exhibition stand apart from the rest.

Our passion leads to design,
design leads to innovation,
innovation leads to success.

Guaranteed protection and value

There are many reasons for using a well-designed stand more than once. In addition to making the best use of your original investment, the time spent preparing for the next show can also be reduced. We can help you with this by arranging excellent storage to protect your stand ready for re-use.

Putting your brand first

First and foremost, the purpose of your exhibition stand is to present your company in the best possible light. On-point branding is therefore essential. Our exhibition stand designers will always put your product or service first, creating a unique design specific to you and your brand.

Get the exhibition stand design you need and want

We work hard at Madeo Design to realise the needs and objectives of both existing and new clients. In fact, we have been told that we are very good listeners. We appreciate that every client is unique, and this means that when we show you our exhibition stand design, it will be tailored to your exact specifications.

Embracing creative design for optimum results.

We take care of delivery for you

We arrange for the transportation of your stand directly to site, enabling you to rest easy and focus on getting ready for the exhibition. And if you need additional products to be taken to the show, we'll also be happy to arrange this for you — helping to keep your overall transportation costs as low as possible.

To minimise the cost of exhibition venue storage, we can also arrange for the wagon to stay on site, where it can be used to store a variety of items.

Design is not just what it looks and feels like.
Design is how it works.
